Introduction: Progressive Mass

About

Progressive Massachusetts is a statewide, grassroots organization committed to working toward shared prosperity, racial and social justice, good government and strong democracy, and sustainable infrastructure and environmental protection. It was founded 5 years ago by local organizers from the Patrick and Obama campaigns in order to continue to move forward progressive values and issues in Massachusetts.

Advancing a progressive agenda in Massachusetts requires electing legislators who share--and will fight for--our values, and then holding them accountable.

Membership

One of the benefits of being a dues-paying member of Progressive Massachusetts is that you get to participate in our endorsement votes for key elections, helping to shape the future direction of progressive policymaking in the state. Not yet a member? Join! ProgressiveMass.com/member

How Endorsements Work

Progressive Massachusetts sends candidates this detailed policy questionnaire, revised periodically by the Elections & Endorsements Committee (EEC). The EEC may choose to make a recommendation in a given race, but the ultimate decision lies with you--the members. In each race, you can choose to vote for a candidate, vote “no endorsement,” or abstain. Candidates who receive at least 60% of all ballots submitted in their respective race will be endorsed by Progressive Massachusetts. If no candidate in a race reaches the 60% threshold, we will not endorse. Regardless of whether or not we endorse, all questionnaires will be made available on our website as a public service.

I. About the Candidate

Steven Leibowitz

1. Why are you running for office? And what will your top 3 priorities be if elected?

Steven Leibowitz: I believe we need leaders that better reflect the best of the values we hold as a community when we come together and are at our best, looking out for each other and our environment. Environmental issues are critical to the Cape, especially wastewater management and climate change. Second, I want to promote a fair and equitable economy on the Cape. Median wages are below state average, yet housing costs are above. Finally, we need to expand educational funding and opportunity, adding universal pre-K, revising foundation budgets, and better supporting funding for our state colleges and universities, which has not recovered to levels we did back in 2001.

2. What prepares you to serve in this capacity?

Steven Leibowitz: I have been involved in the community and the Democratic Party since I was a student at UMass/Amherst and ran successfully for town meeting. I was later an elected town meeting member in Brookline. On the Cape, I have served on the Brewster School Committee and Affordable Housing Partnership. I chaired the Brewster Democratic Town Committee for 6 years and have now been on the Democratic State Committee for 3 years. Last year, when the state party did not schedule a platform hearing for Cape Cod, I hosted one, to give our residents the opportunity to contribute to that process. I later attended one of the official party hearings, testifying and providing a suggested platform addition on ending hunger and responsible food policy. We now have that in our platform. I have also been elected a delegate to the Democratic National Convention in 2012 for President Obama and in 2016 as a delegate for Senator Sanders.

A. REVENUE AND TAXATION

Despite the label of “Taxachusetts,” Massachusetts ranks 22nd among states in terms of state and local taxes as a share of total personal income and below the national average. Between 1977 and 2012, Massachusetts reduced state taxes by more than all but one other state. Because of income tax cuts enacted between 1998 and 2002, Massachusetts is losing over $3 billion in tax revenue each year. Such cuts to the state income tax have meant increasing reliance on fees, as well as sales, gas, and property taxes, exacerbating the overall regressivity of the system. Regressive taxation strains low- and middle-income families, and reduced revenue collection curtails our ability to invest in vital infrastructure. It also restricts legislators’ ability to pass new and visionary legislation, as there is a continual shortage of funds for existing priorities.

Declining revenues have meant drastic cuts, limiting our ability to invest in our communities and future economic stability.

This 13.1% decline in tax revenue has led to deep budget cuts and ongoing budget challenges.

Massachusetts state and local taxes are regressive.

1. What principles do you bring to considerations of state revenue and tax reform (individual and corporate)? How should we raise more revenue to adequately fund our communities for the future?

Steven Leibowitz: I support the Fair Share amendment as critical to our needs to fund our responsibilities as a Commonwealth. In addition, I believe we need stronger measures and clawbacks when tax breaks are offered to companies doing business in Massachusetts, but fail to live up to expectations.

2. Optional/As Applicable: Please indicate work you personally have done to advance your principles on revenue and taxation (legislation, community work, published writings, etc.).

Steven Leibowitz: Governor Patrick proposed an idea, not dissimilar to the Fair Share amendment, to raise revenue. I was fortunate enough to be one of a small number of community leaders brought to the Governor's office for the initial presentation and to provide feedback. I supported the idea then and reached out to my local legislators to lobby for their support. I think that got the conversation going to where we are now.

3. Progressive Taxation. Currently, Progressive Massachusetts is working on a constitutional amendment to increase the income tax on income over $1 million by 4% (Fair Share Amendment, sometimes referred to as the "Millionaire's Tax"), which will be on the 2018 ballot. Do you support this ballot question?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

4. Sales Tax Holiday. It has been demonstrated over and over that the annual sales tax holiday does not serve its intended purpose of increasing sales, but rather just shifts sales to the weekend of the holiday. Would you oppose efforts to extend the sales tax holiday?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

5. Corporate Tax Breaks & Disclosure. Do you support the state's collecting and publicly disclosing the information about the benefits actually provided by corporations receiving tax credits?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes. Absolutely, total transparency. As I mentioned, we often provide tax breaks with no accountability which is absurdly wrong.

6. Corporate Tax Breaks & Wages. Do you support requiring any company receiving tax credits from the state to pay a living wage and provide good benefits to all its employees?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

B. JOB GROWTH AND THE ECONOMY

The Massachusetts economy has continued to grow and recover from the Great Recession, but the gains have not been shared equally. According to various measures of income inequality, Massachusetts now ranks as one of the top ten most unequal states. We are one of the most expensive states in the country for health care, housing, and child care, all of which strain wages. Most MA workers do not have access to paid medical leave, and only a small fraction have access to paid family leave--gaps that force people to choose between their (or their family's) health and their job.

Productivity has grown significantly since the 1970s, but it is not being reflected in higher wages.

1. Share your personal values and principles on job growth and the economy.

How can we improve the economy and economic security for all people? How do we grow the number of good-paying jobs in the Commonwealth? How do you view wealth and income inequality, and what would you do about it, if anything?

Steven Leibowitz: I support the Fight for $15 and indexing further increases on a regular basis. We need Paid Family Medical Leave to protect workers. I support strong unions as essential to protecting worker rights and fair wages. Specifically on Cape Cod, I want to push to expand the build out of Open Cape fiber optics to broaden our economy. I want Cape Cod to be a leader in developing wind and solar, so that we can run on as much renewable energy as possible, again developing good jobs. Finally, there is a growing sector here in aquaculture and traditional farming that needs to be enhanced.

2. Optional/As Applicable: Please indicate work you personally have done to advance your principles on job growth and the economy (legislation, community work, published writings, etc.).

Steven Leibowitz: I have joined in with Raise Up Massachusetts numerous times for rallies and lobbying on Beacon Hill.

3. Increasing Wages.

a. Minimum wage. Do you support raising the minimum wage to $15 an hour?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

b. Tipped Minimum Wage. And making the tipped minimum wage equal to that of the regular minimum wage?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

c. Indexing the Minimum Wage. And indexing the minimum wage to inflation?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

d. Teen Minimum Wage. And reject efforts to create a subminimum wage for teen workers?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

I had addressed most of those in an earlier answer, but would add that I strongly oppose a subminimum wage. Young workers are frequently working to support their families or save for college, their needs must be acknowledged.

4. Paid Leave. Do you support requiring access to up to 16 weeks of paid family leave and 26 weeks of paid medical leave?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

5. Unions -- Part I. If workers in Massachusetts make the decision to unionize, would you be willing to publicly support a union-organizing drive and discourage management from fighting their decision?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

6. Unions -- Part II. Since 2010 election, a number of states have rolled back the collective bargaining rights of public workers as part of a well-funded, nationwide assault on unions led by wealthy, conservative donors. Would you oppose any effort to roll back the collective bargaining rights of state or municipal employees?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

7. Wage Theft. Do you support legislation to hold businesses responsible for the wage violations of their subcontractors when the work they do is substantially connected to the company's operations?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

8. Mandatory Arbitration. Would you support legislation to prohibit the use of mandatory arbitration provisions in employment contracts, i.e., requirements that an employee forfeit the right to sue the employer for discrimination, nonpayment of wages or other illegal conduct?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

9. Economic Democracy. Would you support legislation to foster and develop employee ownership of businesses in Massachusetts and encourage the formation of cooperatives and/or benefit corporations?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

C. EDUCATION

The promise of public education has always been as a gateway to opportunity and mobility for all, regardless of economic circumstances, a cornerstone of the American dream for all residents. The mission of public schools is to serve all students, including English Language Learners and those with special needs. However, powerful corporate interests are working to undermine public schools, teachers, and unions. These groups are investing millions of dollars to promote the expansion of privately run charter schools, which siphon money from our public K-12 districts while largely excluding students with the greatest needs. Various forms of privatization are being proposed and implemented, including charter schools and “turnaround” schemes that put private management groups in charge of struggling public schools. Costly, mandated standardized test results are used to justify these privatization schemes. Finally, the soaring price of higher education over the last several decades has made access to this opportunity increasingly out of reach, at the very moment when higher education makes a greater difference to one’s economic future.

The state hasn’t been living up to its responsibility to fully fund our public schools.

Higher educational attainment leads to higher wages.

Massachusetts has been disinvesting from higher education and shifting the cost burden onto students.

Per Student, Higher Ed. Cut by 31 Percent Since FY 2001

1. Please share your personal values and principles regarding public education. What value does public education have in improving our economy as well as in addressing matters of economic justice? How can we close persistent achievement gaps? What measures should the Commonwealth take on these issues?

Steven Leibowitz: I am a strong proponent of supporting public higher education. I went to UMass/Amherst because that was the best option for me, coming from a low-income household, with a single mother and 4 boys. I now have a daughter there, so I know first hand the difference in cost between our generations. Having served on the Brewster School Committee, I know the hard budget decisions we made every year and continue to make, often caused by unfunded state mandates. Besides charter reimbursement, my district is very hard hit by lack of full reimbursement for regional transportation.

2. Optional/As Applicable: Please indicate work you personally have done to advance your principles on public education?

Steven Leibowitz: In addition to my work on school committee, I was very involved in the first significant override we needed in my district to sustain programs - Nauset SOS. It was a significant effort and challenge, requiring approval from multiple towns, which was successful.

3. Universal Pre-K. Would you support creating universal, free Pre-K, accessible to any resident of Massachusetts, integrated into the public school system?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes. Simply, we need to stop talking the talk and walk the walk.

4. Standardized Testing. Do you oppose the use of high-stakes testing for such things as student promotion, high school graduation, teacher evaluation, and the evaluation of schools and districts?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes. Teaching to a test is not teaching 21st century skills.

5. Equitable Funding. Do you support changing the Chapter 70 Education formula, including the Foundation Budget, to incorporate proper state funding for ELL students, Special Education students, transportation costs, charter school reimbursements to sending schools, and class size reduction?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes. For both standard school districts and the effort to restructure the foundation budgets for regional schools.

6. Charter Schools. Last November, Massachusetts voters overwhelmingly rejected a ballot initiative to lift the cap on charter schools given the millions of dollars it would have siphoned away from public schools.

- a. Would you support keeping the cap on charter schools?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes. I publicly opposed Q2, and made the point of telling people that I did so even though both my daughters attended excellent charter schools. The funding reimbursement is broken and the mission of charters to share innovative successes has not been realized.

- b. Would you support legislation to bring greater accountability and transparency to charter schools, such as by requiring them to adhere to the same disclosure and disciplinary standards as public school districts?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

7. Sex Education. Do you support requiring public schools that teach sexual health education to provide age-appropriate, medically accurate information that is inclusive of all sexual orientations and gender identities that hat includes the effective use of contraception?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes. As a school committee member, I chaired the committee for our first wellness policy.

8. Higher Education Access. Would you support legislation to grant in-state tuition and financial aid to undocumented students?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

9. Tuition-Free Higher Education. Would you support making tuition free at public colleges and universities?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

D. HEALTH CARE

Massachusetts has led the way in providing near universal health insurance coverage, with 97% of the state having health insurance. We provided the blueprint for the national Affordable Care Act, with an insurance-based reform passed by the Democratic Legislature and signed by Republican Governor Romney. While the reforms of President Obama's Affordable Care Act are under assault by Republicans (who control the Executive and both legislative chambers), Massachusetts could lead in more progressive health care reforms. Even without the Republican dismantling of national reforms, there is still work to do right here in Massachusetts. MA's Democratic Legislature passed, and the Republican governor signed, the ACCESS bill in 2017--protecting the right to no-fee contraception, which is (federally) under threat: Where our federal advances are being rolled back, Massachusetts could--and should--push progressively forward. Significant disparities in health insurance coverage and health care access continue to exist along income, racial, and education lines. Premiums continue to rise, and medical debt remains a persistent problem. We still spend an oversized portion of public and private money on health care, but without necessarily achieving better health outcomes.

MA has among the highest health insurance premiums in the country.

1. Please share your personal values and principles regarding health care insurance, delivery, and outcomes.

Steven Leibowitz: A simple answer - health insurance is not health care. We must move towards equitable single payer health care.

2. Optional/As Applicable: Please indicate work you personally have done to advance your principles on health care (legislation, community work, published writings, etc.).

Steven Leibowitz:

3. Single Payer. Would you support legislation to enact a single payer health care system in Massachusetts?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

4. Reproductive Rights. Would you support legislation to guarantee women access to abortion care without dangerous delay, isolation, and obstruction?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

5. Dental Care. Do you support the authorization of dental therapists in Massachusetts, similar to a nurse practitioner or physician assistant, in order to expand access to dental care?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

6. Prescription Drug Pricing. Would you support a drug transparency law, like the one recently passed in California, that requires pharmaceutical companies to publicly justify steep price increases?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

E. HOUSING

Massachusetts has a lot to offer, but that does little if people can't afford to live here. Although Massachusetts ranked #1 last year in the US News & World Report's state ranking, we were #45 in cost of living and #44 in housing affordability. A worker earning minimum wage in Massachusetts would have to work 80 hours a week to afford a modest one bedroom rental home at market rate (and almost 100 hours a week in Metro Boston). Over the last ten years, the need for affordable housing has increased, while funds for affordable housing have decreased at both federal and state levels. The Commonwealth is at risk of losing 14,231 subsidized units by December 31, 2019, as subsidies expire and owners convert properties into market-rate condominiums. Half of families in Greater Boston alone pay over 30% of their income in housing and utilities costs—and over 25% of households pay more than half their income to housing. There is a waiting list of up to ten years for a rental voucher. This is unsustainable. It has led to expanding economic inequality, increased homelessness, and damage to our economy, as talented workers often leave the state for less expensive regions.

Median rents have gone up by more than 30% since 2011.

1. Please share your personal values and principles regarding affordable housing.

How would you ensure that there is suitable housing for all who need it, within reasonable distance of job opportunities? How would you address the need to link housing, jobs, and transportation? How would you tackle homelessness?

Steven Leibowitz: I mentioned before growing up with a single working mother, as one of 4 boys. For 6 years, we lived in the Fidelis Way projects in Brighton, and if we didn't have that, I don't know how we would have had a roof over our heads. After I was divorced and wanting to stay near my children on Cape Cod, I experience how challenging it was to find affordable housing here. The Cape has particular challenges with the number of second home owners and need for conservation land. I support legislation to extend accessory dwellings by right and towns to have more flexibility around zoning issues. And like many more rural areas, we need support for our regional transit authority, to provide access to get people where our jobs are.

2. Optional/As Applicable: Please indicate work you personally have done to advance your principles on housing (legislation, community work, published writings, etc.).

Steven Leibowitz: On the Brewster Affordable Housing Partnership, we began the process of identifying parcels that would be suitable for development, one of which finally moved forward this past town meeting after the town had the opportunity to purchase a parcel to make the larger parcel accessible. I also attended the Housing Advocacy training done on Cape Cod by the Housing Assistance Corporation and the Outer Cape CDP.

3. Funding. Do you support increasing funding for

a. The creation of new units of affordable housing, especially low-income units?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

b. The Massachusetts Rental Voucher Program?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

c. Matching funds for the Community Preservation Act (via fees from the Registry of Deeds)?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

4. Housing Preservation. Currently, certain property owners who guarantee affordable rents have been incentivized by subsidized mortgages via the 13A program. However, many of the contracts under 13A are set to expire in 2019. Do you support giving cities and towns the authority to require such apartments to remain affordable?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

5. Foreclosure Prevention. Do you support a requirement that banks mediate in good faith with homeowners to seek alternatives before beginning foreclosure proceedings?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

6. Tenant Protections. Would you support legislation, such as the Jim Brooks Stabilization Act, that requires landlords to provide a reason when seeking to evict a tenant, like failure to pay rent, damaging property, or breaking a lease; informs tenants of their rights under state law; and increases data collection on eviction?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

7. Zoning Reform. Would you support legislation to upgrade Massachusetts's zoning laws to encourage more affordable housing and transit-oriented, walkable development and to promote inclusionary zoning practices?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

8. Combating Speculation. Would you support legislation to allow cities and towns to impose a graduated tax on private real estate transactions over $2.5 million, with the money allocated to affordable housing trust funds?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

F. RACIAL AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

Massachusetts must continue to strive to be a state that welcomes and embraces all of its residents and combats prejudice and discrimination of all kinds. The social and economic costs of mass incarceration and the policies that created it, in particular, have put our aspirations of “justice for all” into crisis. We support a judicial system that does not disproportionately target communities of color and the poor, that does not criminalize public health issues such as addiction, that reorients away from ineffective and costly ‘tough on crime’ policies. A comprehensive approach to reform must be taken in all aspects of the criminal justice system.

Spending on prisons has increased while other services have been cut.

Significant racial disparities exist in incarceration in Massachusetts

1. Please share your personal values and principles regarding Racial and Social Justice.

Steven Leibowitz: The state has made a good start with the recently passed criminal justice reform bill and decriminalization of marijuana. It is critical we have options for education and job training for non-violent offenders, to provide opportunities that have been lacking. Personal experience again plays a role in my belief of raising all members of society. I lived in Mattapan at a time where there was still some of the Jewish community and a growing African American community. One conversation, I don't even remember what precipitated it, but I remember the words an African American woman said to a group of us -- if there are 2 folks that should understand each other and get along, it would be Black and Jewish people. I knew what she meant then, I seek to embrace those values now.

2. Please indicate work you personally have done to combat racism, Islamophobia, xenophobia, homophobia, transphobia, and other attempts to marginalize disadvantaged groups.

Steven Leibowitz: I have publicly supported recent legislation to give our transgender community recognition and equality, and oppose the effort to take that away. I support efforts by AG Healey to fight back against every effort coming from Washington to limit equality and justice for everyone.

3. Trans Accommodations. In 2016, Massachusetts passed legislation to prevent discrimination against transgender individuals in public accommodations. Conservatives are seeking to repeal the bill on the 2018 ballot. Will you advocate for the protection of this legislation?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

4. LGBTQ Youth. Our neighboring states of Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Vermont ban the use of harmful conversion therapy practices for minors. Do you support banning the use of conversion therapy in Massachusetts?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes. There is no evidence that this is anything other than psychologically damaging.

5. Mandatory Minimums. The landmark criminal justice reform bill passed earlier this year eliminated or reduced a number of mandatory minimums for drug-related offenses; however, it left in place, or expanded, those related to opioids. The opioid crisis in Massachusetts is severe, but it will not be solved by doubling down on criminalization. Do you support eliminating mandatory minimums for opioid drug offenses?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

6. Juvenile Justice -- Part I. Ample research shows that teenage offenders served by a juvenile system are much less likely to re-offend and more likely to successfully transition to adulthood. Teenagers in a juvenile system have access to greater educational and counseling services, and they're much less likely to face sexual assault than at an adult facility. Do you support raising the age of criminal majority from 18 to 21?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

7. Juvenile Justice -- Part II. Under Massachusetts law, if a high school senior and a high school sophomore have sex – with mutual consent — the senior could be punished by incarceration and then forced to register as a sex offender. In recent years, states have been passing so-called "Romeo and Juliet" laws out of a recognition that such cases only get prosecuted when a parent disapproves of their child's relationship. Do you support the elimination of the charge of statutory rape for consensual sex between youths who are close in age (See H.3065 for reference)?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

8. Solitary Confinement. Do you support limiting the use of solitary confinement to no more than 15 consecutive days, and eliminating the use of solitary confinement for at-risk populations, including pregnant women, LGBTQ people, those with mental illness, and those under age 21 or over age 65?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

9. Police Accountability. Do you support the establishment of an independent review board for police shootings in the Commonwealth?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

10. Militarization of Police. Under the federal 1033 program, the US Department of Defense can transfer excess military equipment to local police departments. Such equipment makes police forces look like occupying armies and exacerbates the impact of overpolicing in communities of color. Meanwhile, communities are often left in the dark about the equipment that local police departments are acquiring. Would you support, at minimum, a requirement that local elected officials vote on any such transfer before it can take place?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

11. Safe Communities Act. Do you support the Safe Communities Act, which prohibits the use of state resources for mass deportations or deportation raids, limits local and state police collaboration with federal immigration agents, and prohibits state support for a Muslim registry?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes. And I spoke in favor of the resolution supporting that at Brewster town meeting, the incumbent spoke against it.

12. Safe Driving Act. Would you support the Safe Driving Act, which would remove immigration status as a barrier to applying for a license or learner's permit?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

G. GOOD GOVERNMENT/ STRONG DEMOCRACY

The influence of big money in politics is detrimental to democracy. Independent expenditures in MA elections have grown by a factor of five over the past decade. A centralized power structure on Beacon Hill, is undemocratic, and makes it easier for lobbyists to target the top and undermine the system. A strong democracy requires an engaged electorate, but voter turnout in midterm elections, and especially local elections, remains low. Myths about voter fraud are peddled in order to justify voter suppression. The Election Modernization Act of 2014 helped eliminate Massachusetts's embarrassing status as one of the ten worst states in terms of voting rights, but there is still much work to be done.

Independent expenditures in MA elections have risen rapidly. (Source: Common Cause)

1. Please share your personal values and principles regarding Good Government and Strong Democracy.

Steven Leibowitz: As I mentioned, I have been involved as an activist since a freshman in college, promoting community involvement, especially at a local level.

2. Please indicate work you personally have done to promote transparency, campaign finance reform, legislative rules reform, and access to voting.

Steven Leibowitz: I support stronger state laws requiring all entities performing political activity in Massachusetts to reveal their contributors. If there is a constitutional convention to overturn Citizens United, I will support that. I am involved in the Ranked Choice Voting effort here on Cape Cod.

3. Power and the Legislature. If elected, would you support efforts to dilute the amount of power held by leadership in your respective branch of government? For example, would you support a rule change allowing committees to appoint their own chair, instead of leadership?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

4. Transparency. Massachusetts is one of only two states where the Governor's Office, the Legislature, and the Judiciary claim full exemption from the public records laws. Do you support ending that exemption?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes. House and Senate roll calls should be published on each legislator's page also.

5. Public campaign financing. Would you support legislation to create a robust public financing system for state elections?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

6. Candidate Diversity. The cost of child care can prove prohibitive to working mothers or fathers seeking to run for office. Would you support legislation to explicitly allow working parents running for office to use campaign funds to pay for childcare while the candidate is "performing work or attending events directly related to the candidate's campaign"?

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

7. Voting. Which of the following policies to increase voter participation do you support?

- a. Election day voter registration

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

- b. Automatic voter registration

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

- c. Expansion of early voting to "off-year" elections

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

- d. No-fault absentee voting

Steven Leibowitz: Yes.

H. SUSTAINABLE INFRASTRUCTURE AND ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

Massachusetts will be hit particularly hard by climate change. In order to avoid catastrophic climate change, global carbon emissions need to be reduced by 70% by 2050 and brought to 0 by 2080. In 2016, the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court ruled that the state has failed to meet its legal obligation to set and enforce annual limits on greenhouse gas emissions as outlined in the 2008 Global Warming Solutions Act. Setting and reaching these goals will require the decarbonization of our state economy and a transition away from fossil fuels toward clean, renewable sources of energy. In light of congressional gridlock at the federal level, state government must take a role in incentivizing reduced carbon usage and assisting in coordination between agencies and moving forward local government understanding of looming climate threats.

Equity issues loom large, as low-income communities and communities of color are often the most vulnerable to natural disasters and bear the brunt of pollution. In 2014, Governor Deval Patrick signed an executive order directing all state agencies to devote resources to protect the health, safety, and environment for the most vulnerable residents. However, this nominal commitment to “Environmental Justice” has been more rhetorical than real.

Public transit must play a role in decarbonizing our transportation system, as well as advancing complementary goals of equity and inclusion. However, Massachusetts politicians have lost their understanding of public transit as a public good that benefits all residents and businesses in Massachusetts, not just those who use it in their daily lives. The greatest evidence of this is their neglect of the MBTA: its debt has grown to nearly $5.5 billion, with over $7 billion in deferred maintenance costs. Regional Transit Authorities that serve communities, including Gateway Cities across the state, face enormous capital needs as well.

Despite recent progress, Massachusetts is still overwhelmingly dependent on fossil fuels.

Transportation is currently the largest contributor to greenhouse gas emissions in MA.

1. Please share your personal values and principles regarding Sustainable Infrastructure and Environmental Protection.

Steven Leibowitz: Cape Cod is particularly sensitive to the need for environmentally sound decisions. In my own town, I have supported numerous conservation purchases of strategically important land to protect our water. Brewster has been one of the few communities that has not needed to spend money on a sewage system because of this sound judgment. I strongly support our local farmers markets to encourage a more locavore approach to food, which is also environmentally sound.

2. Please indicate work you personally have done to protect the environment and expand access to public transportation.

Limit answer to 150 words or fewer.

Use this space to add any other issues important to your vision for Massachusetts or any other matter you think progressive voters should know about your candidacy.

Steven Leibowitz: I am proud to run for office as a progressive Democrat. My value is that government should reflect the best of us, and that best is when we come together to help everyone, especially those who have suffered the worst kinds of inequity and injustice. We're simply better than that. I don't want to underestimate the challenges and tell people it will be easy to solve issues that matter, but we simply cannot wait any longer to begin to do so. I am pleased to have so far earned the endorsement of Mass Alliance and welcome the chance to be similarly recognized by Progressive Mass.
